Shoemaker Village - May 2001

Welcome to the May 2001 issue of Shoemaker Village, the first issue of the Village ever to be posted online entirely in HTML format! The Village staff has decided to publish the May issue on the Internet in order to reduce publication time and costs. Depending on reader feedback, publication over the Internet may or may not be continued in the future.

While reading this issue of the Village, be sure to let the editors know what you think of the new publication method. It is only with reader feedback that an informed decision can be made on this matter. Be aware that reading the Village on the Internet is free, and will remain completely free without any signup necessary. If you signed up for paper copies of the Village, your subscription has been extended by an extra month as there is no charge for the publication of an Internet issue.

You can reach the table of contents for this issue by clicking the link below.

Table Of Contents

Archive note

Only this introduction survives in the supplied files. The table of contents and articles have not been recovered.